FOUR-LENS APPROACH

What Makes This Training Different

EMBODIED WISDOM

Developing the body as an instrument of awareness, attunement, and regulation — inhabiting one's own interior as the ground for holding space for others.

COGNITIVE WISDOM

Building a strong professional foundation in scientific models, ethics, harm reduction, and evidence-based best practices.

SACRED WISDOM

Engaging meaning-making traditions, epistemic humility, and a living relationship with nature and lineage — holding the sacred dimensions of practice with care and reverence.

RELATIONAL WISDOM

Cultivating attunement, co-regulation, boundaries, and presence to support safe connection and ethical practice in community and one-on-one settings.

“ You will gain a wealth of knowledge, not only about psychedelic medicine but about yourself, the universe, and everything beyond. This program provides an education that would be difficult to obtain through any other academic setting.

— Erin Kauffman | Graduate, Psychotherapist, USA
